Wong Ling Sun, Vincent, JP
Chairman

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board"), I am pleased to present to you the results of the Group for the year ended 31 March 2026.

RESULTS FOR THE YEAR

Excluding the non-cash impact of the deficit on revaluation of Public Light Bus ("PLB") licences and provision for impairment of public bus licences, the Group recorded an adjusted profit for the year ended 31 March 2026 of approximately HK$34.9 million, representing a substantial increase of around 40.4% compared to the previous year (2025: HK$24.9 million). This commendable performance was primarily driven by fare adjustments and steady growth in passenger patronage. Furthermore, our bottom line was bolstered by reduced financing expenses and a normalisation of administrative costs following the settlement of certain non-recurring, one-off expenses in the prior financial year.

The deficit on revaluation of PLB licences for the year was HK$16.9 million (2025: HK$14.0 million), while the provision for impairment of public bus licences was HK$60,000 (2025: HK$2.5 million). Taking these year-end accounting valuation adjustments into account, the Group recorded a profit for the year ended 31 March 2026 of approximately HK$18.0 million, marking a significant growth compared to that of HK$8.4 million last year.

DIVIDENDS

Basic earnings per share for the year was HK6.61 cents (2025: basic earnings per share of HK3.09 cents). Having carefully considered the factors listed in the Company's dividend policy, which include but not limited to the financial and operational performance (excluding the accounting impact of PLB licence revaluation deficit) and the future cash flows of the Group under the current business environment, the Board recommended a final dividend of HK6.0 cents per ordinary share (2025: HK3.0 cents), totaling HK$16.3 million for the year ended 31 March 2026 (2025: HK$8.2 million). No special dividend was declared by the Board for the year ended 31 March 2026 (2025: HK1.0 cent per ordinary share, totaling HK$2.7 million).

FINANCIAL AND BUSINESS REVIEW

A Reliable and Steady Year

Over the past year, the local transport sector experienced a positive recovery in commuting activities. According to the Transport Department, local passenger journeys via public transport saw an increase of approximately 0.4%, reaching around 4.3 billion. Instead of chasing risky new expansions, we focused on what we do best: running our core PLB routes smoothly, keeping our services reliable, and making our financial position much stronger. Driven by this focus, the Group's patronage rose by 3.2% year-on-year, while the Group's revenue climbed by approximately 5.1% to a record high of HK$436.0 million.

Maintaining Service Stability and Patronage Growth

Ensuring that our passengers can rely implicitly on our minibus network and scheduling remained our core mandate. To mitigate the impact of the ongoing driver shortage across Hong Kong, the Group implemented competitive wage adjustments to safeguard our local captain talent pool. Furthermore, the importation of captains from Mainland, China has matured into a highly reliable operational pillar. Following the conclusion of the contract period for our inaugural batch of imported captains, the Group maintained a strict service standard and successfully renewed the contracts of over 96% of our eligible, high-performing imported captains. This human resource stability directly enabled us to optimise route frequencies and increase total mileage.

These cumulative operational improvements successfully stimulated patronage growth during the year, validating our strategic focus on service frequency and reliability. To complement this growth, we continued to upgrade our fleet by replacing six aged minibuses with new models and installing advanced onboard equipment, further elevating passenger safety and comfort.

Strengthened Financial Position and Liquidity

While our overall business stayed steady, our focus on keeping a tight grip on spending and managing our cash flow effectively led to an improvement in the Group's financial health. As of 31 March 2026, the Group successfully built a stronger financial foundation, significantly enhancing our liquidity with a healthy level of cash and bank balances. This careful approach helped us make a big leap forward in lowering our debt levels, significantly improving our gearing ratio (defined as total bank borrowings less bank balances and cash divided by shareholders' equity) compared to the 100.4% we recorded last year.

At the same time, because our main three-year minibus lease is ending soon, our short-term lease obligations dropped significantly. This helped us reverse last year's net current liabilities into a healthy net current assets position, giving the Group plenty of breathing room and a much better short-term liquidity profile.

Supporting this financial health, the Group reported an underlying profit of HK$34.9 million for the year, representing a 40.4% increase from the previous year's HK$24.9 million. This figure excludes non-cash accounting adjustments, such as the revaluation of PLB licenses and impairment provisions for public bus licenses, providing a much clearer view of our true operational performance.

On a statutory compliance basis, the Group recorded a profit of approximately HK$18.0 million after recognising a non-cash deficit from PLB licence revaluation and impairment provision for public bus licences. The continued decline in the value of PLB licences reflects persistent structural challenges within the minibus industry, particularly in the red minibus segment where market conditions remain weak. These external pressures remain beyond the Group's control and have affected reported asset valuations.

Despite these accounting impacts, the Group continues to prioritise operational strength over licence investment value. The underlying profit of HK$34.9 million more accurately reflects the robustness of core business activities and affirms the Group's ability to deliver stable financial results amid sector pressures. While accounting standards necessitate recognition of valuation adjustments, these do not represent any deterioration in the Group's actual performance.

PROSPECT

Looking ahead, the Group continues to operate in a demanding environment shaped by persistent labour shortages and severe, unpredictable cost pressures. While the gradual growth of the local economy has kept passenger demand stable on our core routes, our overall financial performance is facing heavy headwinds due to a sharp spike in international fuel prices following the recent crisis in the Middle East. This geopolitical volatility drove a sudden increase of around 19% in our fleet's fuel costs for the two months ended 31 May 2026 compared to the same period last year, placing an immediate and heavy burden on our daily operating expenses. Consequently, management anticipates that the adverse impact of these surging fuel costs will inevitably be reflected in the Group's upcoming interim results for the next financial period.

To help the industry cope with this fuel crisis, the Hong Kong Government introduced a fuel subsidy scheme alongside tunnel toll reductions for a period of two months. The total financial relief to the Group from these measures is estimated to be approximately HK$2.4 million. While these relief measures have provided much-needed short-term breathing room, it remains highly uncertain whether the Government will extend these subsidies further. Because of this ongoing uncertainty, management is staying highly proactive and has already submitted fare adjustment applications for heavily impacted routes to help protect the Group's long-term financial sustainability.

In terms of environmental sustainability and cost management, the Group continues to monitor green transport technologies. At present, fully electric minibuses remain a less feasible replacement option due to the critical lack of fast-charging facilities across our operational routes. However, management is actively looking into alternative energy-saving options. To this end, the Group plans to launch a trial run of low-floor designed range-extended electric minibuses (增程式電動小巴) and electric minibuses (when fast-charging solution is available) in the coming financial year. We hope this passenger-friendly, accessible model will offer a more practical, infrastructure-independent solution to reduce our long-term fuel dependencies.

The structural labour shortage remains a critical challenge for the entire minibus sector. While the deployment of our imported captains from Mainland China has successfully stabilised our current daily services, the underlying aging problem among local drivers continues unabated. Management anticipates that if the Government does not open another round of the labour importation scheme, the driver shortage will inevitably become severe again in the medium term. Therefore, we continue to urge the authorities to establish a regular importation framework to systematically address these ongoing demographic challenges.

Despite these heavy macroeconomic pressures, the Group remains completely confident in its ability to protect its core passenger base. We are working constructively with transport authorities to ensure our routes remain sustainable and efficient. Looking further forward, the ongoing development of the Northern Metropolis presents fantastic strategic opportunities for us. It allows the Group to demonstrate the essential role our green minibuses play in serving growing communities that sit beyond the reach of the railway network. As always, we will balance our operational needs with our core mission: providing safe, reliable, and affordable transport services to the public.

APPRECIATION

As another rewarding year draws to a close, I would like to express, on behalf of the Board, our heartfelt appreciation to all employees whose dedication has been instrumental to the Group's achievements. We are equally grateful to our business partners for their steadfast collaboration and trust as we continue to journey forward together. To our passengers, we extend our deepest thank for your trust – your support inspires us to keep striving for excellence. This collective commitment will remain the foundation upon which the Group continues to build its legacy of service to Hong Kong.

Hong Kong, 30 June 2026

AMS's objective is to propel the Group into a prominent market position by providing the public with reliable, safe and comfortable journeys, and hence maximising stakeholders' value.
The Group endeavors to achieve its objective by maintaining a team of management expertise which puts continuous effort in improving fleet productivity, efficiency and service quality, and carrying out stringent repair and maintenance programmes for the sake of safety.

REVIEW OF OPERATION

- To enhance operational efficiency and service quality, the Group continued its efforts to propose route reorganisation plans to the Transport Department. During the year, the Group completed a series of route reorganisations involving 24 franchised PLB routes. The primary focus of these reorganisations was to adjust the fleet size for individual route packages and modify the service hours and frequencies of specific routes, as well as to introduce new stops and express routes to better meet passenger demand.

- As of 31 March 2026, the number of PLB routes operated by the Group reduced to 72 (2025: 73) while the total number of PLBs increased to 356 (2025: 354). Additionally, the number of routes and fleet size for residents' buses increased to be 5 (2025: 4) and 8 (2025: 7), respectively.

- As of 31 March 2026, the Group's average fleet age was 8.9 years (2025: 8.3 years). Furthermore, as at 31 March 2026, the Group deployed 289 of the 19-seat PLBs (2025: 282), which accounted for approximately 81% of the Group's PLB fleet (2025: 80%).

- According to the transport figures published by the Transport Department, the total number of passenger journeys carried by public transport operators increased by 0.4%, while green minibus operators saw a rise of 1.9% for the year ended 31 March 2026. The steady increase in passenger numbers from 2025 to 2026 mirrors the city's economic recovery and the return of normalcy. The stabilisation of these numbers in late 2025 and early 2026 reflects a maturing market where transport demand is aligned with the current economic activity levels.

- The acute driver shortage that previously impacted several of the Group's core operational routes was successfully mitigated during the year. This stabilisation was primarily achieved through the strategic integration of imported drivers from Mainland China under the relevant labour importation schemes initiated in the prior financial year. With an enhanced driver workforce, the Group successfully restored and optimised its service frequencies on affected routes. This resulted in an overall increase in total mileage traveled of approximately 6.3%, reaching around 37.0 million kilometers (2025: 34.8 million kilometers).

- Driven by improved scheduling reliability, enhanced service frequencies, and ongoing route optimisation, the patronage of the Group's franchised PLB services rose by 3.2% to approximately 57.8 million compared to last year (2025: approximately 56.0 million).

- To mitigate the ongoing margin pressures arising from elevating fuel costs and rising labour expenses, the Group has proactively submitted fare adjustment applications for a number of its routes. As the approval process by the Transport Department naturally requires a review period, no new fare adjustments took effect during the year under review. Last year, approval was granted to raise fares on 69 routes at rates ranging from 3.4% to 14.3%. The full-year effect of these approved fare adjustments served as a key revenue driver for the current financial year under review, helping to partially absorb ongoing inflationary pressures.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Consolidated results for the year

Excluding the non-cash impact of the deficit on revaluation of PLB licences and provision for impairment of public bus licences, the Group recorded an adjusted profit for the year ended 31 March 2026 of approximately HK$34,934,000, representing a substantial increase of 40.4% compared to the previous year (2025: HK$24,881,000). This commendable performance was primarily driven by fare adjustments and steady growth in passenger patronage. Furthermore, the adjusted profit was bolstered by reduced financing expenses and a normalisation of administrative costs following the settlement of certain non-recurring, one-off expenses in the prior financial year.

The deficit on revaluation of PLB licences for the year was HK$16,905,000 (2025: HK$14,025,000), while the provision for impairment of public bus licences was HK$60,000 (2025: HK$2,460,000). Taking these year-end accounting valuation adjustments into account, the Group recorded a profit for the year ended 31 March 2026 of approximately HK$17,969,000, marking a significant growth compared to that of HK$8,396,000 last year.

	Year ended 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000	Increase/ (Decrease) HK$'000	In %

Profit for the year	17,969	8,396	9,573	+114.0%

- With the increase in patronage by 3.2%, coupled with the full year effect of fare increase, the revenue for the year increased accordingly by HK$21,108,000 or 5.1%, reaching a record high of HK$436,137,000 (2025: HK$415,029,000), as compared with last year.

- Other revenue for the year ended 31 March 2026 decreased by approximately HK$834,000 or 9.1% to HK$8,346,000 (2025: HK$9,180,000). This decline was primarily driven by a reduction in advertising income and a decrease in interest income generated during the year.

- The Group recorded a positive turnaround in other net income, yielding approximately HK$62,000 for the year compared to the other net expense of HK$435,000 in the previous financial year. This significant improvement was attributable to a substantial 99.3% reduction in losses incurred on the disposal of property, plant, and equipment.

- Direct costs for the year were HK$354,733,000 (2025: HK$338,570,000), representing an increase of HK$16,163,000 or around 4.8% as compared with that for last year. The major direct costs of the Group were labour costs, depreciation of right-of-use assets in respect of leased PLBs, fuel costs and repair and maintenance costs, which altogether made up over 90% of the total direct costs. The major changes on the direct costs are as follows:

  – Fuel costs: The Group's fuel costs remained stable at approximately HK$66,279,000 for the year ended 31 March 2026, maintaining the same level as last year (2025: HK$66,450,000). While the expansion in total mileage travelled led to an increase in overall fuel consumption volume, the financial impact was effectively neutralised by lower fuel procurement costs. The average unit prices of diesel and LPG fell by 1.5% and 7.2% respectively during the year, allowing the Group to maintain stable fuel expenditures despite heightened operational capacity.

  – Labour costs: The labour costs increased by HK$11,441,000 or approximately 7.1% to HK$173,392,000 (2025: HK$161,951,000) as compared with last year. This was primarily driven by general wage increments implemented to maintain market competitiveness and retain skilled captains, as well as the extended duty hours of the Group's driving workforce resulting from higher operational mileage and increased service frequencies during the year.

  – Depreciation of the right-of-use assets in respect of the leased PLBs for the year slightly increased by HK$662,000 or 1.1% to HK$63,400,000, compared with last year (2025: HK$62,738,000). This marginal increase was primarily due to the lease modifications recognised upon the replacement of six aged leased PLBs with new PLBs during the year, which naturally carried a higher depreciable base.

- Administrative expenses for the year decreased by HK$3,384,000 or 7.5% to HK$41,580,000 (2025: HK$44,964,000), which was primarily driven by the absence of significant one-off outlays incurred in the prior year, specifically the initial onboarding and training costs for imported captains from Mainland China and special expenses designated for the Group's 50th anniversary celebrations.

- The breakdown of finance costs for the year is as follows:

	Year ended 31 March
	2026	2025
	HK$'000	HK$'000
Interest expenses on bank borrowings	2,406	3,461
Finance charges on lease liabilities	3,229	6,282
Total finance costs	5,635	9,743

  – The interest expenses on bank borrowings for the year decreased by HK$1,055,000 or around 30.5% to HK$2,406,000 (2025: HK$3,461,000), which was mainly due to the drop in both market borrowing rate and average outstanding bank loans balances during the year; and – The finance charges on lease liabilities for the year reduced by HK$3,053,000 or around 48.6% to HK$3,229,000 (2025: HK$6,282,000). This significant reduction was primarily attributable to the progressive decline in the average outstanding lease liability balances under a three-year minibus leasing agreement entered into with connected parties for the renewal of the Group's fleet leasing arrangements.

- During the year, the income tax expense was HK$6,523,000 (2025: HK$4,485,000). Excluding 1) the non-deductible effect of deficit on revaluation of PLB licences and provision for impairment of public bus licences, and 2) the effect of two-tiered profits tax rates, the effective tax rate for the year was 16.1% (2025: 15.8%). The Hong Kong profits tax rate applicable to the Group during the year remained at 16.5% (2025: 16.5%), except that a subsidiary was entitled to a profits tax rate cut to 8.25% for the first HK$2,000,000 assessable profit under the two-tiered profits tax rates regime introduced by the Hong Kong Government.

- As compared with last year, the fair value of PLB licence further dropped by HK$255,000 or approximately 40.0% to around HK$383,000 per licence as at 31 March 2026 (2025: HK$638,000). Hence, the total carrying value of PLB licences of the Group decreased accordingly to HK$26,010,000 (2025: HK$42,075,000). The deficit on the revaluation of PLB licences charged to the Group's consolidated income statement increased to HK$16,905,000 (2025: HK$14,025,000). Please also refer to note 18 to the consolidated financial statements for more information on the carrying amount of PLB licences.

  According to the applicable accounting standards, the PLB licences are revaluated with reference to their market value at each reporting date. Nevertheless, instead of holding for investment purpose, all the PLB licences owned by the Group are for operational use. The accounting revaluation of the PLB licences should be considered separately because the volatility of their market value has no significant impact on the Group's core operation.

Notes:

(i) Net cash generated from operating activities rose primarily due to the Group's enhanced operating profit during the year and a year-end cash settlement timing variance. While the March 2025 payroll was substantially settled on 31 March 2025, the March 2026 payroll of approximately HK$16.7 million was settled on 1 April 2026, temporarily preserving operating cash balances at the financial year-end.

(ii) The net cash used in investing activities for the year was mainly for the replacement of aged PLB and motor vehicle, purchase of two PLB licences, as well as ongoing investments in PLB equipment upgrades to enhance operational efficiency.

(iii) Please also refer to the Consolidated Cash Flows Statement for the details.

Capital structure, liquidity and financial resources

Liquidity and financial resources

The Group's operations are mainly financed by proceeds from its operations. The Group carefully assesses and monitors its liquidity to ensure that it has sufficient cash and standby bank facilities to meet its daily operational needs.

The total amount of the current liabilities of the Group decreased by HK$27,118,000 or 22.5% to HK $93,291,000 (2025: HK$120,409,000) as at 31 March 2026, which was primarily due to a substantial decrease in current lease liabilities, as a three-year minibus leasing agreement was approaching maturity within the next six months, resulting in a lower outstanding short-term obligation balance.

Meanwhile, the current assets increased by HK$24,457,000 or 31.7% to HK$101,637,000 (2025: HK$77,180,000) compared with last year end, which was mainly attributable to the increase in bank balances and cash by HK$25,675,000 or 38.4% to HK$92,575,000 (2025: HK$66,900,000) as at 31 March 2026. Driven by both liquidity growth and the contraction in current liabilities, the Group successfully achieved a turnaround to a net current assets position of HK$8,346,000, reversing the net current liabilities of HK$43,229,000 recorded in the prior year. Correspondingly, the current ratio improved significantly to 1.09 times as at 31 March 2026 (2025: 0.64 times).

All of the bank balances and cash as at 31 March 2026 and 31 March 2025 were denominated in Hong Kong dollars. Please refer to the "Cash Flow" section above for the change of the bank balances and cash for the year.

As at 31 March 2026, the Group had banking facilities totalling HK$148,953,000 (2025: HK$171,033,000) of which HK$81,653,000 (2025: HK$103,733,000) was utilised.

Bank borrowings

No new borrowing was initiated during the year. Owing to the scheduled repayments, the balance of total bank borrowings of the Group decreased by HK$22,080,000 or around 21.3% to HK$81,653,000 as at 31 March 2026 (2025: HK$103,733,000).

The maturity profiles of the bank borrowings are as follows:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Within one year	7,495	22,031
In the second year	6,819	7,416
In the third to fifth years	20,825	20,546
After the fifth year	46,514	53,740
	81,653	103,733

The gearing ratio of the Group, defined as total bank borrowings less bank balances and cash divided by shareholders' equity, significantly improved from 100.4% as at 31 March 2025 to a net cash position as at 31 March 2026. This capital structure turnaround was primarily driven by the robust accumulation of bank balances and cash to HK$92,575,000, which completely surpassed the total bank borrowings of HK$81,653,000, alongside a steady reduction in outstanding bank loan balances during the year.

Dividend and dividend policy

Having carefully considered the factors listed below in the Company's dividend policy and the Group's operational results excluding the accounting impact of PLB licence revaluation deficit, the Board recommended a final dividend of HK6.0 cents per ordinary share (2025: HK3.0 cents), totaling HK$16,315,000 for the year ended 31 March 2026 (2025: HK$8,158,000). No special dividend was declared by the Board for the year ended 31 March 2026 (2025: HK1.0 cent per ordinary share, totaling HK$2,719,000). The final dividends recommended are intended to be paid out of the share premium account pursuant to the memorandum and articles of association of the Company (the "Articles").

The Company is committed to providing stable and sustainable returns to the shareholders of the Company. Meanwhile, the Company also needs to maintain sufficient working capital for the daily operations and future growth of the Group. Therefore, the Board shall take into account the following factors when considering the declaration of dividends:

(i) The Group's current and expected financial performance;

(ii) the Group's expected working capital requirements, capital expenditure and future expansion plans;

(iii) retained earnings and distributable reserves of the Company;

(iv) the liquidity of the Group;

(v) the general economic conditions and other internal or external factors that may have an impact on the business or financial performance and position of the Group; and

(vi) any other factors that the Board considers as relevant.

The declaration and the amount of dividends of the Company are also subject to restrictions under the Company Law of the Cayman Islands and the Articles. There is no guarantee that any particular amount of dividends will be distributed for any specific periods.

Pledge of assets

The Group has pledged certain assets to secure the banking facilities obtained. Details of the pledged assets as at year end are as follows:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
PLB licences	13,770	22,950
Property, plant and equipment	14,486	17,371
Investment properties	573	647

Capital expenditure and commitment

Capital expenditure incurred for the year is as below:

	Year ended 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Property, plant and equipment	2,447	3,687
PLB licences	840	–
Right-of-use assets	1,592	3,045
Total	4,879	6,732

The capital expenditure for property, plant and equipment for the year was mainly for the replacement of aged PLB and motor vehicle, as well as ongoing investments in PLB equipment upgrades to enhance operational efficiency.

The capital commitment of the Group was HK$43,000 as at 31 March 2026 (2025: HK$43,000).

Credit risk management

The income of the franchised PLB operation of the Group is either received in cash or collected via Octopus Cards Limited or AlipayHK and remitted to the Group on the next business day. Also, the Group does not provide guarantees to any third parties which would expose the Group to credit risk. The Group is therefore not exposed to any significant credit risk.

Foreign currency risk management

The Group is not exposed to significant foreign exchange risk as the majority of income and expenditures of its operating activities, monetary assets and liabilities are denominated in Hong Kong dollars.

Interest rate risk management

The Group's interest rate risk arises primarily from its bank balances, bank borrowings and lease liabilities. All bank borrowings as at 31 March 2026 were denominated in Hong Kong dollars and on a floating interest rate basis. The practice effectively eliminates the currency risk and the management is of the view that the Group is not subject to significant interest rate risk. Finance costs accounted for around 1.4% (2025: 2.4%) of the total costs of the Group (excluding the deficit on revaluation of PLB licences and provision for impairment of public bus licences) for the reporting year. Any reasonably possible changes in the market interest rates would not bring significant impact to the Group.

Fuel price risk

The Group is exposed to fuel price risk. The fluctuations in the fuel prices could be significant to the operations of the Group. However, having carefully evaluated the market conditions, the Group's internal resources and the possible outcomes of entering into hedging derivatives, the Board concluded that entering into hedging contracts might not necessarily be an effective tool to manage the fuel price risk. Therefore, the Group did not have any hedging policies over its anticipated fuel consumption during the years ended 31 March 2026 and 31 March 2025. The management will continue to closely monitor the changes in market conditions.

Contingent liabilities

The Group did not have any material contingent liabilities as at 31 March 2026 and 31 March 2025.

Material acquisitions and disposals

The Group did not have any material acquisitions or disposals of subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures during the year ended 31 March 2026 (2025: Nil).

Employees and remuneration policies

Since the minibus industry is labour intensive in nature, staff costs accounted for a substantial part of the total operating costs of the Group. Apart from the basic remuneration, double pay and/or discretionary bonus are granted to eligible employees taking into account the Group's performance and individual's contributions. Other benefits including retirement plan and training schemes are also provided to the staff members. The total amount of employee benefit expenses incurred for the year was HK$219,939,000 (2025: HK$208,638,000), representing approximately 53.7% (2025: 52.3%) of the total costs (excluding the deficit on revaluation of PLB licences and provision for impairment of public bus licences).

The headcount of the Group is as below:

	As at 31 March
	2026	2025
Directors	8	8
Administrative staff	85	81
Captains and technicians	1,175	1,186
Total	1,268	1,275

For more employment indicators, please refer to the Environmental, Social and Governance Report for the financial year 2025/26 of the Group.

Event after the reporting period

On 30 June 2026, Gurnard Holdings Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, being the lessee, and Maxson Transportation Limited, Hong Kong & China Transportation Consultants Limited and Big Three Limited, all being the lessors, entered into a new minibus leasing agreement with a view to renewing the existing PLB leasing arrangements for another term of three years running from 1 October 2026 to 30 September 2029. For the details of significant events occurring after the reporting period, please refer to the note 39 to the consolidated financial statements of this annual report.

The Company is dedicated to ensuring that its business activities and other affairs are conducted in accordance with good corporate governance practices. The Company has applied the principles of the Appendix C1 “Corporate Governance Code” (the “Code”) of the Listing Rules and set up corporate governance practices to meet all code provisions and some of the recommended best practices in the Code.

During the year, the Company has met all the code provisions of the Code. Also, the Board has met some of the recommended best practices set out in the Code, they are: 1) the Board conducts evaluation of its performance annually and 2) the Board has received a confirmation from management on the effectiveness of the Group’s risk management and internal control systems.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Composition of the Board

The Board is chaired by Mr. Wong Ling Sun, Vincent (the “Chairman”). The Board comprises four Executive Directors, one Non-Executive Director and three Independent Non-Executive Directors. Four board committees, namely Executive Committee, Remuneration Committee, Audit Committee and Nomination Committee, are appointed by the Board to oversee different areas of the Group’s affairs. The respective responsibilities of the Board and the board committees are discussed in this report.

The Board sets the Group’s overall objectives and strategies, monitors and evaluates its operating and financial performance and reviews the corporate governance standard of the Company. It also decides on matters such as annual and interim results, material or connected transactions, director appointments or re-appointments, dividends and accounting policies. The Board has delegated the authority of and responsibility for implementing the Group’s business strategies and managing the daily operations of the Group’s businesses to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee comprises the four Executive Directors and is fully accountable to the Board.

The Directors and the membership of each of the board committees as at the date of this annual report are as follows:

Notes: “C” means the chairman of the relevant board committee
“M” means a member of the relevant board committee
Ms. Wong Wai Man, Vivian, the Non-Executive Director, does not participate in the above Board committees

All Independent Non-Executive Directors, whose designations as Independent Non-Executive Directors are identified in all corporate communications of the Company, bring a variety of experience and expertise to the Group and at least one of the three Independent Non-Executive Directors has appropriate professional qualifications or accounting or related financial management expertise. The Independent Non-Executive Directors participate in Board meetings to bring an independent judgement on the issues arising in the meetings and monitor the Group's performance in achieving the corporate goals and objectives. The Company maintains appropriate directors' and officers' liabilities insurance.

The Board members have no financial, business, family or other material/relevant relationships with each other save that (1) Ms. Ng Sui Chun is the mother of the Chairman, Ms. Wong Wai Sum, Maya and Ms. Wong Wai Man, Vivian; and (2) Ms. Wong Wai Sum, Maya and Ms. Wong Wai Man, Vivian are the siblings of the Chairman. When the Board considers any proposal or transaction in which a Director or any of his/her associate(s) has an interest, such Director declares his/her interest and is required to abstain from voting. If a Director has conflict of interests in a matter to be considered by the Board which the Board has determined to be material, the matter must be dealt with by a physical Board meeting rather than a written resolution.

Each of the Independent Non-Executive Directors has confirmed in writing his/her independence from the Company in accordance with the guidelines on director independence in the Listing Rules. On this basis, the Company considers all Independent Non-Executive Directors to be independent. All Directors disclosed to the Board on their first appointment their interests as Director or otherwise in other public companies or organisations and other significant commitments. Such declarations of interests and the respective time commitment are updated semi-annually and reported to the Company when there is any significant change.

The Board reviews its composition regularly to ensure that it has the appropriate balance of expertise, skills, experience and diversity of perspectives to continue to effectively oversee the business of the Group. Given the composition of the Board and the skills, knowledge and expertise that each Director exercises in his/her deliberations, the Board believes that it is appropriately structured to provide sufficient checks and balances to protect the interests of the Group and the shareholders.

All Directors are encouraged to participate in continuous professional development and the Company is responsible for the costs of such trainings. Directors are required to provide a record of the training they received to the Company annually. The participation by Directors in the continuous professional development with appropriate emphasis on duties of a Director of a listed company and corporate governance matters during the year ended 31 March 2026 is as follows:

Board independence

Independent Non-Executive Directors provide an independent perspective to the Board, which can help ensure that decisions are made objectively and in the best interests of the Company. They also act as a check and balance to the Executive Directors by giving constructive challenge to management.

During the year, the Board reviewed and considered that the following key features or mechanisms under Group's governance structure are effective in ensuring that independent views and input are available to the Board:

Board and Committees' structure	• The Board has appointed three Independent Non-Executive Directors. More than one-third of the members of the Board are being Independent Non-Executive Directors. • The chairmen and members of the Audit Committee, Nomination Committee and Remuneration Committee of the Board are Independent Non-Executive Directors. • Independent board committee for reviewing connected transactions comprises the three Independent Non-Executive Directors only.
Independent Non-Executive Directors' remuneration	• Non-Executive Directors receive fixed fees for their role as members of the Board and Board Committees as appropriate.
Appointment of Independent Non-Executive Directors	• In assessing suitability of the candidates, the Nomination Committee reviews their profiles, including their qualification and time commitment, having regard to the Board's composition, the Directors' skill matrix, the list of selection criteria approved by the Board, the Nomination Policy and the Board Diversity Policy.
Annual review of Independent Non-Executive Directors' commitment and independence	• The Board reviews the Director's time commitment to his/her role as a Director of the Company by requesting the Directors to update their personal profile semi-annually. • Each Independent Non-Executive Director is also required to inform the Company as soon as practicable if there is any change in his/her own personal particulars that may materially affect his/her independence. • Each Independent Non-Executive Director confirms his/her independence annually by reference to the independence criteria as set out in the Listing Rules. • Nomination Committee reviews the independence of the Independent Non-Executive Directors annually to ensure that they can continually exercise independent judgement.
Others	• All Directors are entitled to seek advice from the Company Secretary. They can also seek independent advice from external professional advisers, at the Company's expense, to perform their duties. • Directors can express their views on the quality and efficiency of the performance of the Board are assessed during the annual evaluation of the Board's performance. • Independent Non-Executive Directors and the chairman of the Board meet annually without the presence of other Directors.

Board Meetings

Regular Board meetings are held at least four times a year at approximately quarterly intervals and are scheduled in advance to facilitate the fullest possible attendance. Additional meetings may be called if necessary. The Company Secretary of the Company (the "Company Secretary") assists the Chairman in setting the agenda of Board meetings. Notices of regular Board meetings, including the proposed agenda, are sent to the Directors at least 14 days before the meeting date and each Director is invited to present any businesses that he/she wishes to discuss or propose at such meetings. Finalised agenda and Board papers are normally circulated to all Directors six days before the regular Board meetings to ensure timely access to relevant information. All Directors are supplied with adequate and sufficient information to enable them to make well-informed decisions and they are free to access the senior management of the Group to make further enquiries. The CEO and the senior management are obligated to respond to the queries raised by the Directors in a timely manner.

The Board agrees to seek independent professional advice at the expense of the Company, upon reasonable request and approval of all Independent Non-Executive Directors. Draft and final versions of Board minutes are circulated to all Directors for their comments and records respectively. Final Board minutes are kept by the Company Secretary and are open for inspection by the Directors. The Company held four regular full Board meetings during the financial year 2025/26.

The attendance records of each member of the Board are set out on page 19 of this report.

Board Committees

The Board delegates some of its duties and responsibilities to four board committees, namely, Executive Committee, Remuneration Committee, Audit Committee and Nomination Committee. Clear terms of reference have been established for each of the board committees which will be discussed below. The board committees report back to the Board on their decisions or recommendations.

The Directors are of the view that they have the overall and collective responsibilities in performing the corporate governance functions of the Group and opt not to delegate this function to any board committee. The major responsibilities of the Board concerning corporate governance are:

- setting up and reviewing the Group's policies and practices on corporate governance;
- reviewing and monitoring the training and continuous professional development of Directors and senior management;
- reviewing and monitoring the Group's policies and practices in compliance with legal and regulatory requirements;
- setting up, reviewing and monitoring the code of conduct and compliance policies/guidelines applicable to employees and Directors; and
- reviewing the Group's compliance with the Code and disclosure in the Corporate Governance Report.

During the year ended 31 March 2026 the Board held four meetings to perform the following work:

- reviewed and approved the interim and final results, financial statements, announcements, circular and reports of the Group;
- reviewed the risk management and internal control review reports prepared by the internal auditor and discussed with management the reports' findings and recommendations on the Group's operations and corporate activities;

The purpose of the amendments was to comply with the new Appendix C2 Environmental, Social and Governance ("ESG") Reporting Code ("ESG Reporting Code") under the Listing Rules, incorporating climate-related risks and opportunities into the governance framework, mandating related disclosures, and formally documenting the existing ESG working group;
- reviewed the shareholders' communication policy of the Company and concluded that the policy was effective and sufficient;

APPOINTMENT AND RE-ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Nomination Committee regularly reviews the structure, size and composition (including the skills, knowledge, experience and diversity considerations) of the Board to ensure its expertise and independence are maintained. A person may be appointed as a member of the Board at any time either by the shareholders in general meeting or by the Board upon recommendation by the Nomination Committee.

At each AGM, one-third of the Directors (or, if the number of Directors is not divisible by three, such number as is nearest to and less than one-third) must retire as Directors by rotation. All Directors are subject to retirement by rotation at least once every three years in accordance with the Articles and are eligible for re-election and re-appointment. A Director who is appointed by the Board to fill a casual vacancy must retire at the first AGM of the Company after his appointment. Such Director is eligible for election at that AGM, but is not taken into account when deciding which and how many Directors should retire by rotation at that AGM.

The appointments of all Non-Executive Director and Independent Non-Executive Directors are subject to retirement by rotation and re-election at the subsequent AGMs in accordance with the Articles and the Listing Rules. For any Independent Non-Executive Director who has served on the Board for more than nine years, his/her further appointment will be subject to a separate resolution to be approved by the shareholders. The Company shall disclose the reasons in the annual report or the circular why it considers such Independent Non-Executive Director to be independent and should be re-elected.

There is a formal letter of appointment for each Director setting out the key terms and conditions of his/her appointment. Every newly appointed Director shall receive a comprehensive, formal and tailored induction on appointment. Subsequently, the Company Secretary would arrange briefing and/or professional development trainings to develop and refresh the Directors' knowledge and skills, as well as ensuring that the Directors have a proper understanding of the Company's operations and business and other regulatory requirements updates.

The procedures for shareholders to propose a person for election as a Director are available on the Company's website at http://www.amspt.com/index.php/en/investor.

CHAIRMAN AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

To ensure a balance of power and authority, the role of the Chairman is separated from that of the CEO. The current CEO is Mr. Chan Man Chun, who is also an Executive Director.

The posts of Chairman and CEO are distinct and separate. The division of responsibilities between the Chairman and the CEO is clearly established and set out in the Board Manual and summarised as follows:

The responsibilities of the Chairman include:

- chairing and leading the Board to ensure that it operates effectively;
- ensuring that adequate information about the Group's business, which must be accurate, clear, complete and reliable, is provided to the Board on a timely basis;
- ensuring that all Directors are properly briefed on issues arising at Board meetings;
- ensuring good corporate governance practices;
- monitoring the performance of the CEO and other Executive Directors;
- holding meetings with the Independent Non-Executive Directors without the presence of the Executive Directors and Non-Executive Director; and
- ensuring appropriate steps are taken to provide effective communication with shareholders and that their views are communicated to the Board as a whole.

The responsibilities of the CEO include:

- proposing to the Board the direction, objectives, strategies and policies of the Group for its consideration and approval;

- procuring the management to provide the Board with financial and operational monthly updates giving a balanced and understandable assessment of the Group's performance, position and prospects in sufficient detail to enable the Board as a whole and each Director to discharge their duties.

DELEGATION BY THE BOARD

Executive Committee

The Executive Committee is chaired by the Chairman and comprises the other four Executive Directors including the CEO. It meets monthly and is responsible to the Board for overseeing and setting the strategic direction of the Group.

Remuneration Committee

The Remuneration Committee is chaired by an Independent Non-Executive Director Mr. James Mathew Fong and comprises the other two Independent Non-Executive Directors, Prof. Chan Yuen Tak Fai, Dorothy and Mr. Kwong Ki Chi.

The major responsibilities of the Remuneration Committee are:

The terms of reference of the Remuneration Committee are available on the websites of the Company and the Stock Exchange.

The Remuneration Committee is provided with sufficient resources to perform its duties and it can access independent professional advice at the expense of the Company if necessary. It is the practice of the Remuneration Committee to consult the Chairman and/or the CEO about their remuneration proposals for other Executive Directors and Non-Executive Director. To avoid conflict of interests, no Director or any of his/her associates is involved in deciding his/her own remuneration.

During the year ended 31 March 2026, the Remuneration Committee held one meeting to perform the following work:

- reviewed the remuneration packages and structures of all Executive Directors, especially the CEO, and the senior management;

- reviewed the Company's policy and structure for the remuneration of Non-Executive Director and Independent Non-Executive Directors;

- assessed the performance of Executive Directors and approved discretionary bonuses to some of the Executive Directors; and

- reviewed the remuneration review procedures of the Group.

The Remuneration Committee did not review or approve any material matters relating to the Company's share scheme during the year.

The attendance records of each member of the Remuneration Committee are set out on page 19 of this report.

In order to be able to attract and retain staff of suitable calibre, the Company recognises the importance of a fair and competitive remuneration policy. To ensure that the remuneration packages are appropriate and align with the Group's goals, objectives and performance, the Company has considered a number of factors such as salaries paid by comparable companies, job responsibilities, duties and scope, market conditions and practices, financial and non-financial performance, and desirability of performance-based remuneration, when formulating the remuneration policy.

The remuneration package of Executive Directors includes salary, bonus, pensions, medical and life insurance benefits. The remuneration level is determined with reference to the expertise and experience possessed by each Executive Director and his/her performance. Except for the bonus payable to the CEO which is determined with reference to the Group's performance, bonuses to other Executive Directors are given on a discretionary basis and determined with reference to the corporate and individual performance. The remuneration of Non-Executive Director and Independent Non-Executive Directors is determined by the Board in consideration of the experience, expertise and the responsibilities involved. Please refer to note 14 to the financial statements for the emolument details of each Director, the five highest paid employees and also the remuneration paid to members of senior management by band.

The Company adopted a share option scheme on 30 August 2013 ("2013 Scheme") to provide the Company with a platform to offer rewards and incentives to eligible participants for their contribution to the Group and to encourage them to work towards enhancing the value of the Company and its shares for the benefit of the Company and its shareholders as a whole. The 2013 Scheme expired on 29 August 2023. After the expiration of the 2013 Scheme, no further options shall be offered but options granted prior thereto shall continue to be valid and exercisable in accordance with the provisions of the 2013 Scheme. All options granted under the 2013 Scheme have been either exercised or lapsed, and there were no outstanding options as at 31 March 2026. No new share scheme has been adopted by the Company since then. Please refer to pages 40 to 42 of this annual report for the details of the share option schemes.

Audit Committee

The Audit Committee is responsible to the Board and consists of three Independent Non-Executive Directors pursuant to its terms of reference. The Audit Committee is chaired by Mr. Kwong Ki Chi. Prof. Chan Yuen Tak Fai, Dorothy and Mr. James Mathew Fong are the members of the Audit Committee.

The Audit Committee reviews the completeness, accuracy and fairness of the Company's reports and financial statements and provides assurance to the Board that they comply with the adopted accounting standards, the Listing Rules and legal requirements. The Audit Committee also annually reviews the adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control and risk management systems. It reviews the work plan of the internal auditor and holds planning meeting with the external auditor before the auditors commence their work. It reviews the work done and the results of audits performed by the internal and external auditor, the relevant fees and terms, and the appropriate actions required on significant control weaknesses. It also considers the adequacy of resources, the qualifications and experience of staff in respect of the Group's accounting and financial reporting function, and their training programmes and budget. The Executive Directors and the external and internal auditor may also attend the Audit Committee meetings.

The terms of reference of Audit Committee are available on the websites of the Company and the Stock Exchange.

The major responsibilities of the Audit Committee are:

OPINION

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of AMS Public Transport Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (together, the "Group") set out on pages 53 to 107, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 March 2026, and the consolidated income statement, the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated cash flow statement for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 March 2026, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with HKFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") as issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), as applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Valuation of public light bus ("PLB") licences

Refer to note 18 to the consolidated financial statements, the accounting policies in note 2.6 and the accounting estimates and judgements in note 4.

The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
Management has estimated the fair value of the Group's PLB licences to be HK$26,010,000 as at 31 March 2026 with deficit on revaluation for the year ended 31 March 2026 recorded in the consolidated income statement of HK$16,905,000. The fair value of the Group's PLB licences were assessed by an external valuer based on independent valuation. We identified valuation of the Group's PLB licences as a key audit matter because of the significance of PLB licences to the consolidated financial statements and the determination of the fair value involves significant judgement and estimation, particularly in selecting the appropriate valuation methodology and market data.	Our audit procedures to valuation of PLB licences included: • obtaining valuation report of the Group's PLB licences performed by the external valuer; • assessing the competence, independence and objectivity of the external valuer; • assessing the valuation methodology adopted by the external valuer; • checking on a sample basis, the accuracy and relevance of the input data used by comparing them with available market data; and • assessing the reasonableness of key assumptions adopted in the valuations.

Impairment assessment of goodwill

Refer to note 21 to the consolidated financial statements, the accounting policies in notes 2.7 and 2.15 and the accounting estimates and judgements in note 4.

The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
As at 31 March 2026, the Group had net carrying amounts of goodwill of HK$22,918,000, which were allocated to four cash generating units ("CGUs") of franchised PLB services according to their separate operating rights. The Company's management performed impairment assessment of the Group's goodwill. The recoverable amount of each CGU was determined based on value-in-use calculations using future cash flow projections. Based on the results of the impairment assessment which involved significant management judgements and estimation including the growth rates and discount rates applied in the value-in-use calculations, the Company's management has concluded that there was no impairment of the goodwill for the year ended 31 March 2026. We identified the impairment assessment of goodwill as a key audit matter because the value-in-use calculations involved significant management judgement and estimation, and were based on assumptions that would be affected by economic and market conditions.	Our audit procedures in relation to impairment assessment of goodwill included: • assessing the valuation methodology adopted by the management and the reasonableness of key assumptions and significant inputs, with the assistance of an internal valuation specialist; • evaluating the historical accuracy of cash flow forecasts by comparing them to actual results in the current year; • reconciling input data to supporting evidence, such as approved budgets and considering the reasonableness of these budgets; and • assessing the sensitivity analysis prepared by management on the significant assumptions to evaluate the extent of impact on the discounted cash flows.

Impairment assessment of right-of-use assets

Refer to note 17 to the consolidated financial statements, the accounting policies in notes 2.11 and 2.15 and the accounting estimates and judgements in note 4.

The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
As at 31 March 2026, the net carrying amounts of right-of-use assets was HK$31,822,000, which were allocated to the CGUs according to their separate operating rights. The Company's management performed impairment assessment of the Group's right-of-use assets. The recoverable amount of each CGU was determined based on the higher of (i) fair value, reflecting market conditions less costs of disposal, and (ii) value-in-use calculations using future cash flow projections. We identified the impairment assessment of right-of-use assets as a key audit matter because of the significance of right-of-use assets to the consolidated financial statements and significant management judgement and estimation were involved in determining the recoverable amounts of the CGUs.	Our audit procedures in relation to impairment assessment of right-of-use assets included: • assessing the valuation methodology adopted by the management and the reasonableness of key assumptions and significant inputs; • evaluating the historical accuracy of cash flow forecasts by comparing them to actual results in the current year; • reconciling and checking the accuracy and relevance of the input data to supporting evidence, such as approved budgets and available market data and considering its reasonableness; and • assessing the sensitivity analysis prepared by management on the significant assumptions to evaluate the extent of impact on the recoverable amounts.

OTHER INFORMATION

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all the information in the 2026 annual report of the Company, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTORS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors assisted by the Audit Committee are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. We report our opinion solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.

- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.

- conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the Group as a basis for forming an opinion on the group financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries made up to 31 March each year.

The Group includes the income and expenses of a subsidiary in the consolidated financial statements from the date it gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Intra-group transactions, balances and unrealised gains and losses on transactions between group companies are eliminated in preparing the consolidated financial statements. Where unrealised losses on sales of intra-group asset are reversed on consolidation, the underlying asset is also tested for impairment from the Group's perspective. Amounts reported in the financial statements of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the accounting policies adopted by the Group.

2.3 Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. When assessing whether the Group has power over the entity, only substantive rights relating to the entity (held by the Group and others) are considered.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the profit or loss on disposal is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary and any non-controlling interests.

In the Company's statement of financial position, subsidiaries are carried at cost less any impairment losses unless the subsidiary is held for sale or included in a disposal group. Cost also includes direct attributable costs of investment.

The results of subsidiaries are accounted for by the Company on the basis of dividends received and receivable at the end of the reporting period. All dividends whether received out of the investee's pre or post acquisition profits are recognised in the Company's income statement.

2.4 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are initially recognised at acquisition cost. They are subsequently stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method as follows:

Land and buildings	Over the shorter of lease term or 50 years
Leasehold improvements	Over the shorter of lease term or 5-10 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	3-5 years
PLBs and public buses	10 years
Motor vehicles	10 years

Estimates of residual value and useful life are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Gain or loss arising on retirement or disposal is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in the consolidated income statement.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other costs, such as repairs and maintenance, are charged to consolidated income statement during the financial period in which they are incurred.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.5 Investment properties

Investment properties are land and/or buildings which are owned or held under a leasehold interest to earn rental income and/or for capital appreciation.

Transfers are made to investment properties only when there is a change in use. When the owner-occupied property becomes an investment property, such property is accounted for in accordance with the policy stated under property, plant and equipment (note 2.4) up to the date of change in use. On initial recognition, investment property is measured at cost, and subsequently stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Depreciation is provided to write off the cost using the straight-line method over the shorter of their estimated useful lives of 50 years and the lease term.

2.6 PLB licences and public bus licences

PLB licences, which represent freely-transferable licences to provide PLB transportation services in Hong Kong, are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at open market value at the end of each reporting period as assessed by the directors and/or independent qualified valuers, less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Changes arising on the revaluation of PLB licences are generally recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in PLB licences revaluation reserve, except that (i) when a deficit arises on revaluation, it will be charged to the consolidated income statement, if and to the extent that it exceeds the amount held in the reserve in respect of the same licence immediately prior to the revaluation; and (ii) when a surplus arises on revaluation, it will be credited to the consolidated income statement, if and to the extent that a deficit on revaluation in respect of that same licence had previously been charged to the consolidated income statement.

On disposal of PLB licences, the related portion of surpluses previously taken to the PLB licences revaluation reserve is transferred to accumulated losses and is shown as a movement in reserves.

Public bus licences acquired by the Group are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

The PLB licences and public bus licences are issued under section 21 of the Road Traffic (Registration and Licensing of Vehicles) Regulations and should be renewed every 12 months. There are certain grounds on which the Commissioner of Transport may refuse to license or cancel the licence of a registered motor vehicle under section 25 of Road Traffic Ordinance, including if (i) by reason of its design or construction, or any adaptation or the condition thereof, the vehicle or any equipment thereof does not comply with the Road Traffic Ordinance or the vehicle design standards; (ii) the registered owner of the vehicle fails to have the vehicle tested at a specified vehicle emission testing centre when required; (iii) a vehicle examination order in respect of the vehicle has not been complied with; (iv) the vehicle is found to be not roadworthy; (v) no valid insurance in respect of third party risks is in force in respect of the vehicle; and (vi) no passenger service licence is in force in respect of the vehicle which is registered as a PLB or public bus. Nevertheless, based on the past experience of the Group and the usual practice of the industry, the directors consider that the Group is able to fulfill and satisfy all the conditions necessary to obtain renewal without significant cost of renewal.

Therefore, PLB licences and public bus licences of the Group are regarded by the directors as having indefinite useful lives because there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which the PLB licences and public bus licences are expected to generate net cash inflows for the Group. The useful lives of PLB licence and public bus licences are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.7 Goodwill

Set out below are the accounting policies on goodwill arising on acquisition of a subsidiary.

Goodwill arising in a business combination is recognised as an asset at the date that control is acquired (the acquisition date). Goodwill is measured as the excess of the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the Group's interest in the net fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets and liabilities measured as at the acquisition date.

If, after reassessment, the Group's interest in the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable net assets exceeds the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any), the excess is recognised immediately in consolidated income statement as a bargain purchase gain.

Goodwill is stated at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units ("CGUs") and is tested annually for impairment (see note 2.15).

On subsequent disposal of a subsidiary, the attributable amount of goodwill capitalised is included in the determination of the amount of gain or loss on disposal.

2.8 Financial instruments

Recognition and derecognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument.

Financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or when the financial asset and substantially all of its risks and rewards are transferred. A financial liability is derecognised when it is extinguished, discharged, cancelled or expires.

Financial assets

Classification and initial measurement of financial assets

Except for those trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component and are measured at the transaction price in accordance with HKFRS 15 "Revenue from Contracts with Customers", all financial assets are initially measured at fair value, in case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL"), plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset.

Financial assets are classified into the following categories:

– at amortised cost;

– FVTPL; or

– fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI").

The classification is determined by both:

– the entity's business model for managing the financial asset; and – the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset.

All income and expenses relating to financial assets that are recognised in the consolidated income statement are presented within finance costs or other revenue, except for expected credit losses ("ECL") of trade and other receivables which is presented within administrative expenses.

Subsequent measurement of financial assets

Debt instruments

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are measured at amortised cost if the assets meet the following conditions (and are not designated as FVTPL):

– they are held within a business model whose objective is to hold the financial assets and collect its contractual cash flows; and

– the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial recognition, these are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other revenue in consolidated income statement. Discounting is omitted where the effect of discounting is immaterial. The Group's trade and other receivables (excluding prepayments) and bank balances and cash fall into this category of financial instruments.

Financial liabilities

Classification and measurement of financial liabilities

The Group's financial liabilities include bank borrowings, lease liabilities and trade and other payables.

Financial liabilities (other than lease liabilities) are initially measured at fair values, and, where applicable, adjusted for transaction costs unless the Group designated a financial liability at FVTPL.

Subsequently, financial liabilities (other than lease liabilities) are measured at amortised costs using the effective interest method.

All interest-related charges are included in finance costs.

Accounting policies of lease liabilities are set out in note 2.11.

Bank borrowings

Bank borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Bank borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in consolidated income statement over the period of the bank borrowings using the effective interest method.

Bank borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless as at the end of the reporting period, the Group has a right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the end of the reporting period.

Covenants that the Group is required to comply with, on or before the end of the reporting period, are considered in classifying loan arrangement with covenants as current or non-current. Covenants that the Group is required to comply with after the reporting period do not affect the classification.

Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are recognised initially at their fair values and subsequently measured at amortised costs, using the effective interest method.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.9 Impairment of financial assets

HKFRS 9's impairment requirements use forward-looking information to recognise ECL – the "ECL model". Instruments within the scope included loans and other debt-type financial assets measured at amortised cost, trade receivables and some financial guarantee contracts (for the issuer) that are not measured at FVTPL.

The Group considers a broader range of information when assessing credit risk and measuring ECL, including past events, current conditions, reasonable and supportable forecasts that affect the expected collectability of the future cash flows of the instrument.

In applying this forward-looking approach, a distinction is made between:

– financial instruments that have not deteriorated significantly in credit quality since initial recognition or that have low credit risk ("Stage 1") and – financial instruments that have deteriorated significantly in credit quality since initial recognition and whose credit risk is not low ("Stage 2").

"Stage 3" would cover financial assets that have objective evidence of impairment at the end of the reporting period.

"12-month ECL" are recognised for the Stage 1 category while "lifetime ECL" are recognised for the Stage 2 category.

Measurement of the ECL is determined by a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses over the expected life of the financial instrument.

Trade receivables

For trade receivables, the Group applies a simplified approach in calculating ECL and recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECL at the end of each reporting period. These are the expected shortfalls in contractual cash flows, considering the potential for default at any point during the life of the financial assets. In calculating the ECL, the Group has established a provision matrix that is based on its historical credit loss experience and external indicators, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

To measure the ECL, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due.

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost

The Group measures the loss allowance for other receivables equal to 12-month ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increase in the likelihood of risk of default occurring since initial recognition.

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial assets at the end of the reporting period with the risk of default occurring on the financial assets at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

– an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;

– significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;

– existing or forecast adverse changes in regulatory, business, financial, economic conditions, or technological environment that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations; and – an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the aforegoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a debt instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the end of each reporting period. A debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk if it has a low risk of default, the borrower has strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfill its contractual cash flow obligations.

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collateral held by the Group).

Detailed analysis of the ECL assessment of trade receivables and other financial assets measured at amortised cost are set out in note 37.6.

Financial guarantee contracts

For a financial guarantee contract, the Company is required to make payments only in the event of a default by the debtor in accordance with the terms of the instrument that is guaranteed. Accordingly, the ECL is the present value of the expected payments to the holder for a credit loss that it incurs less any amounts that the Company expects to receive from the holder, the debtor or any other party.

2.10 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash at bank and in hand and short-term bank deposits.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.11 Leases

(a) Definition of a lease and the Group as a lessee

At inception of a contract, the Group considers whether a contract is, or contains a lease. A lease is defined as "a contract, or part of a contract, that conveys the right to use an identified asset (the underlying asset) for a period of time in exchange for consideration". To apply this definition, the Group assesses whether the contract meets three key evaluations which are whether:

- the contract contains an identified asset, which is either explicitly identified in the contract or implicitly specified by being identified at the time the asset is made available to the Group;

- the Group has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the identified asset throughout the period of use, considering its rights within the defined scope of the contract; and

- the Group has the right to direct the use of the identified asset throughout the period of use. The Group assesses whether it has the right to direct 'how and for what purpose' the asset is used throughout the period of use.

Measurement and recognition of leases as a lessee

At lease commencement date, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability on the consolidated statement of financial position. The right-of-use asset is measured at cost, which is made up of the initial measurement of the lease liability, any initial direct costs incurred by the Group, an estimate of any costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset at the end of the lease, and any lease payments made in advance of the lease commencement date (net of any lease incentives received).

The Group depreciates the right-of-use assets on a straight-line basis from the lease commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use assets or the end of the lease term unless the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership at the end of the lease term. The Group also assesses the right-of-use assets for impairment when such indicator exists.

At the commencement date, the Group measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments unpaid at that date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Group's incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability are made up of fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable payments based on an index or rate, and amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee.

Subsequent to initial measurement, the liability will be reduced for lease payments made and increased for interest cost on the lease liability. It is remeasured to reflect any reassessment or lease modification, or if there are changes in in-substance fixed payments.

The Group remeasures lease liabilities whenever the lease payments change due to changes in market rentals rates, in which cases the related lease liabilities are remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate.

When the lease is remeasured, the corresponding adjustment is reflected in the right-of-use asset, or profit or loss if the right-of-use asset is already reduced to zero.

The Group has elected to account for short-term leases, except for PLB leases, using the practical expedients. Instead of recognising a right-of-use asset and lease liability, the payments in relation to these leases are recognised as an expense in consolidated income statement on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Short-term leases are leases with a lease term of 12 months or less.

(b) The Group as a lessor

As a lessor, the Group classifies its leases as either operating or finance leases.

A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset, and classified as an operating lease if it does not.

The Group earns rental income from operating leases of its investment properties and income from advertising on PLBs which are recognised on a straight-line basis over the term of the leases.

2.12 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Share capital is recognised at the amount of consideration of shares issued, after deducting any transaction costs associated with the issuing of shares (net of any related income tax benefit) to the extent they are incremental costs directly attributable to the equity transaction.

2.13 Revenue recognition

Revenue arises mainly from the provision of franchised PLB and residents' bus transportation services.

To determine whether to recognise revenue, the Group follows a 5-step process:

1. Identifying the contract with a customer

2. Identifying the performance obligations

3. Determining the transaction price

4. Allocating the transaction price to the performance obligations

5. Recognising revenue when/as performance obligation(s) are satisfied

In all cases, the total transaction price for a contract is allocated amongst the various performance obligations based on their relative stand-alone selling prices. The transaction price for a contract excludes any amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Revenue is recognised either at a point in time or over time, when (or as) the Group satisfies performance obligations by transferring the promised goods or services to its customers.

Further details of the Group's revenue and other income recognition policies are as follows:

Services income is recognised upon provision of the franchised PLB and residents' bus transportation services.

Administration fee income, advertising income, repair and maintenance service income and management fee income are recognised upon provision of the relevant services.

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis using the effective interest method. For financial assets measured at amortised cost that are not credit-impaired, the effective interest rate is applied to the gross carrying amount of the asset.

Accounting policies for rental income are set out in note 2.11.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.14 Government grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Group will comply with all attached conditions. Government grants are deferred and recognised in the consolidated income statement over the period necessary to match them with the costs that the grants are intended to compensate.

Government grants relating to income is presented in gross under “Other revenue and other net income/(expense)” in the consolidated income statement.

2.15 Impairment of non-financial assets

Property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets, investment properties, PLB licences, public bus licences, goodwill and the Company’s interests in subsidiaries are subject to impairment testing.

Goodwill and other intangible assets (including PLB licences and public bus licences) with indefinite useful life or those not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, irrespective of whether there is any indication that they are impaired. All other assets are tested for impairment whenever there are indications that the asset’s carrying amount may not be recoverable.

An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately for the amount by which the asset’s carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value, reflecting market conditions less costs of disposal, and value-in-use. In assessing value-in-use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of time value of money and the risk specific to the asset.

For the purposes of assessing impairment, where an asset does not generate cash inflows largely independent of those from other assets, the recoverable amount is determined for the smallest group of assets that generate cash inflows independently (i.e. a CGU). As a result, some assets are tested individually for impairment and some are tested at CGU level. Corporate assets are allocated to individual CGUs, when a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of CGUs for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified. Goodwill in particular is allocated to those CGUs that are expected to benefit from synergies of the related business combination and represent the lowest level within the Group at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purpose and not be larger than an operating segment.

Impairment losses recognised for CGUs, to which goodwill has been allocated, are credited initially to the carrying amount of goodwill. Any remaining impairment loss is charged pro rata to the other assets in the CGU, except that the carrying value of an asset will not be reduced below its individual fair value less cost of disposal, or value-in-use, if determinable.

An impairment loss on goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods. In respect of other assets, an impairment loss is reversed if there has been a favourable change in the estimates used to determine the asset’s recoverable amount and only to the extent that the asset’s carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.16 Employee benefits

Retirement benefits

Retirement benefits to employees are provided through defined contribution plans. In addition, the employees employed under the Hong Kong Employment Ordinance ("Employment Ordinance") are also entitled to LSP if the eligibility criteria are met. The LSP are defined benefits plans.

(a) Defined contribution plans

The Group operates defined contribution Mandatory Provident Fund retirement benefits scheme (the "MPF Scheme") under the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance since December 2000, for all of its employees who are eligible to participate in the MPF Scheme. Prior to that, the Group ran a defined contribution scheme ("ORSO Plan") which was registered under the Occupational Retirement Schemes Ordinance ("ORSO") and ceased since the commencement of the MPF Scheme.

The Group, as employers, and the employees are each required to make regular mandatory contributions calculated at 5% of the employee's relevant income to the MPF scheme, subject to a cap of monthly relevant income of HK$30,000. Contributions made by the Group are recognised as an expense in the consolidated income statement. The Group's obligations under these plans are limited to the fixed percentage contributions payable.

(b) LSP under the Employment Ordinance

According to the Employment Ordinance, the amount of LSP that an employee will receive on cessation of employment in certain circumstances is defined by reference to the employee's length of service and corresponding salary.

The provision for LSP recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position is the present value of the provision for LSP at the end of the reporting period.

Management estimates the LSP obligations annually by using the projected unit credit method, taking into account MPF accrued benefits that can be used to offset pre-transition LSP up to 30 April 2025. This is based on the discount rate, the salary growth rate and the expected investment return on offsetable MPF accrued benefits. Discount factors are determined close to each annual reporting date by reference to government bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the LSP will be paid and have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related LSP obligations.

The costs of LSP are categorised as follows:

- service cost (including current service cost, and gains and losses on curtailments and settlements);
- net interest expense or income; and
- remeasurement.

Service cost and the net interest expense or income are included in employee benefits expenses.

Gains and losses resulting from remeasurements of the provision for LSP, comprising actuarial gains and losses, are included in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Short-term employee benefits

Employee entitlements to annual leave are recognised when they accrue to employees. A provision is made for the estimated liability for annual leave as a result of services rendered by employees up to the end of the reporting period.

Non-accumulating compensated absences such as sick leave and maternity leave are not recognised until the time of leave.

Share-based employee compensation

The Group operated an equity-settled, share-based compensation plan for remuneration of its employees. Although the share-based compensation plan expired on 29 August 2023, all the share options granted prior thereto were valid and exercisable within their exercisable period. Subsequent to the expiry of the final batch of share options on 29 September 2025, there were no outstanding share options as at 31 March 2026.

The fair value of the employee services received in exchange for the grant of share options is recognised as an expense, with a corresponding increase in the share options reserve in equity. The total amount to be expensed over the vesting period is determined by reference to the fair value of the options granted, excluding the impact of any non-market vesting conditions (for example, profitability and sales growth targets). Non-market vesting conditions are included in assumptions about the number of options that are expected to vest. At each reporting date, the Group revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest. It recognises the impact of the revision of original estimates, if any, in the consolidated income statement, and a corresponding adjustment to equity.

The proceeds received, net of any directly attributable transaction costs, are credited to share capital (nominal value) and share premium when the options are exercised. After vesting date, when the vested share options are later forfeited or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in "Share options reserve" will be transferred to "Accumulated losses".

2.17 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are expensed when incurred.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.18 Accounting for income taxes

Income tax comprises current tax and deferred tax.

Current income tax assets and/or liabilities comprise those obligations to, or claims from, fiscal authorities relating to the current or prior reporting period, that are unpaid at the end of the reporting period. They are calculated according to the tax rates and tax laws applicable to the fiscal periods to which they relate, based on the taxable profit for the year. All changes to current tax assets or liabilities are recognised as a component of tax expense in consolidated income statement.

Deferred tax is calculated using the liability method on temporary differences at the end of the reporting period between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, tax losses available to be carried forward as well as other unused tax credits, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit, including existing taxable temporary differences, will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, unused tax losses and unused tax credits can be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither taxable nor accounting profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax is calculated, without discounting, at tax rates that are expected to apply in the period the liability is settled or the asset realised, provided they are enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period.

Changes in deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognised in the consolidated income statement, or in other comprehensive income or directly in equity if they relate to items that are charged or credited to other comprehensive income or directly to equity.

When different tax rates apply to different levels of taxable income, deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the average tax rates that are expected to apply to the taxable income of the periods in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse.

The determination of the average tax rates requires an estimation of (i) when the existing temporary differences will reverse and (ii) the amount of future taxable profit in those years. The estimate of future taxable profit includes:

– income or loss excluding reversals of temporary differences; and

– reversals of existing temporary differences.

2.18 Accounting for income taxes (Continued)

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are presented in net if, and only if,

(a) the Group has the legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts; and

(b) intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

The Group presents deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities in net if, and only if,

(a) the entity has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities; and

(b) the deferred tax assets and the deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either:

  (i) the same taxable entity; or

  (ii) different taxable entities which intend either to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered.

2.19 Financial guarantee issued

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer (or guarantor) to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument.

Where the Group issues a financial guarantee, the fair value of the guarantee is initially recognised as deferred income within “Trade and other payables”. The fair value of financial guarantees is determined based on the present value of the difference in cash flows between the contractual payments required under the debt instruments and the payments that would be required without the guarantee, or the estimated amount that would be payable to a third party for assessing the obligations. Where consideration is received or receivable for the issuance of the guarantee, the consideration is recognised in accordance with the Group’s policies applicable to that category of asset. Where no such consideration is received or receivable, an immediate expense is recognised in consolidated income statement on initial recognition of any deferred income.

Subsequently, financial guarantees are measured at the higher of the amount determined in accordance with ECL under HKFRS 9 as set out in note 2.9 and the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, the cumulative amount of income recognised over the guarantee period.

2.20 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made. Where the time value of money is material, provisions are stated at the present value of the expenditure expected to settle the obligation.

All provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.21 Segment reporting

The Group identifies operating segments and prepares segment information based on the regular internal financial information reported to the executive directors, being the chief operating decision maker, for their decisions about resources allocation to the Group's business components and for their review of the performance of those components. The business components in the internal financial information reported to the executive directors are determined based on the Group's major service lines.

The only operating segment of the Group is the franchised PLB and residents' bus services.

2.22 Related parties

3. ADOPTION OF NEW AND AMENDED HKFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

Amended HKFRS Accounting Standards that are effective for annual periods beginning on 1 April 2025

In the current year, the Group has applied for the first time the Amendments to HKAS 21 "Lack of Exchangeability" which are effective for the Group's consolidated financial statements for the annual period beginning on 1 April 2025.

The amendments to HKAS 21 specify how an entity should assess whether a currency is exchangeable and how it should determine a spot exchange rate when exchangeability is lacking. Besides, the amendments also require an entity to disclose additional information that enables users of its financial statements to understand how the currency not being exchangeable into the other currency affects, or is expected to affect, the entity's financial performance, financial position and cash flows.

The amendments do not have a material impact on the financial statements of the Group.

Issued but not yet effective HKFRS Accounting Standards

At the date of authorisation of these consolidated financial statements, certain new and amended HKFRS Accounting Standards have been published but are not yet effective, and have not been adopted early by the Group.

Other new and amended HKFRS Accounting Standards are not expected to have a material impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

3. ADOPTION OF NEW AND AMENDED HKFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS (CONTINUED)

HKFRS 18 "Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements" and related amendments to Hong Kong Interpretation 5

HKFRS 18 replaces HKAS 1 "Presentation of Financial Statements". It carries forward many of the existing requirements in HKAS 1, with limited changes, and some HKAS 1 requirements will be moved to HKAS 8 "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors" and HKFRS 7 "Financial Instruments: Disclosures".

HKFRS 18 will not impact the recognition and measurement of financial statements items but the presentation of them. It introduces three major new requirements, including:

- reporting newly defined subtotals (namely "operating profits" and "profits before financing and income tax"), and classifying items into five newly defined categories (namely "operating", "investing", "financing", "income tax" and "discontinued operation"), depending on the reporting entity's main business activities, in the statement of profit or loss;

- Disclosure of management-defined performance measures ("MPMs") in a single note to the financial statements; and

- enhanced guidance of aggregation and disaggregation of information in the financial statements.

Besides, narrow-scope amendments have been made to HKAS 7 "Statement of Cash Flows", which includes:

- using "operating profit or loss" as the starting point for indirect method for the presentation of operating cash flows purposes; and

- the option for classifying interest and dividend cash flows as operating activities is eliminated.

In addition, there are consequential amendments to several other standards.

HKFRS 18, and the amendments to the other HKFRS Accounting Standards, are effective for annual period beginning on or after 1 January 2027 and must be applied retrospectively with specific transition provisions. The directors of the Company are currently working to identify all the impacts of HKFRS 18, particularly with respect to the structure of the Group's consolidated income statement, the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated cash flows statement and the additional disclosures required for MPMs. The Group is also assessing the impact of how information is grouped in the consolidated financial statements, including the items currently labelled as "other".

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

4.1 Estimation uncertainty

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below.

Estimation of impairment of goodwill

The Group tests annually whether goodwill has suffered any impairment in accordance with the accounting policy stated in note 2.15. The recoverable amounts of CGUs have been determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations require the use of estimates and assumptions. In the process of estimating expected future cash flows, management makes assumptions about future revenue and profits. These assumptions relate to future events and circumstances. The actual results may vary and may cause a material adjustment to the carrying amount of goodwill within the next financial year. As at 31 March 2026, the net carrying amount of goodwill is HK$22,918,000 (2025: HK$22,918,000). No impairment was provided during the years ended 31 March 2026 and 2025. Details of the estimates of the recoverable amounts of CGUs containing goodwill are disclosed in note 21.

Estimation of fair value of PLB licences

The PLB licences were revalued on an open market basis on 31 March 2026 by an independent qualified valuer with reference to the average of recent market-quoted prices from different market dealers. As described in note 18, the estimation of fair value also includes assumptions such as government policies for PLB businesses remained unchanged and continuous existence of an open market for PLB licences. The fair value of PLB licences was HK$26,010,000 as at 31 March 2026 (2025: HK$42,075,000).

Estimation of impairment of public bus licences

The Group tests annually whether public bus licences have suffered any impairment in accordance with the accounting policy stated in note 2.15. The recoverable amount has been determined based on the higher of (i) fair value, reflecting market conditions less costs of disposal, and (ii) value-in-use calculations. These calculations require the use of estimates as stated in note 19. As at 31 March 2026, the net carrying amount of public bus licences is HK$5,580,000 (2025: HK$5,640,000). The impairment loss provided for public bus licences for the year ended 31 March 2026 was HK$60,000 (2025: HK$2,460,000).

Estimation of impairment of trade and other receivables within the scope of ECL under HKFRS 9

The Group makes allowances on items subjects to ECL (including trade and other receivables) based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Group uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the ECL calculation, based on the Group’s past history, existing market conditions as well as forward-looking estimates at the end of each reporting period as set out in note 2.9. As at 31 March 2026, the carrying amounts of trade and other receivables within the scope of ECL under HKFRS 9 was HK$4,287,000 (2025: HK$5,005,000).

The provision of ECL is sensitive to changes in estimates. When the actual future cash flows are different from expected, such difference will impact the carrying amount of trade and other receivables within the scope of ECL under HKFRS 9 and credit losses in the periods in which such estimate has been changed.

Estimation of impairment of right-of-use assets

The Group tests whether right-of-use assets have suffered any impairment in accordance with the accounting policy stated in note 2.15. The recoverable amount has been determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations require the use of estimates about future cash flows and discount rates. In the process of estimating expected future cash flows management makes assumptions about future revenue and profits which relate to future events and circumstances. The actual results may vary and may cause a material adjustment to the carrying amount of right-of-use assets within the next financial year. As at 31 March 2026, the net carrying amount of right-of-use assets is HK$31,822,000 (2025: HK$93,859,000). No impairment was provided for the years ended 31 March 2026 and 2025.

Recognition of deferred tax assets for tax losses

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement and estimates about future taxable profits is involved to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of future taxable profits. The carrying amount of deferred tax assets relating to recognised tax losses at 31 March 2026 was HK$505,000 (2025: HK$1,627,000).

Estimation of LSP obligations

Management's estimate of the LSP obligations is based on a number of critical underlying assumptions such as the discount rate, the salary growth rate and the expected investment return on offsetable MPF accrued benefits. Variation in these assumptions may significantly impact the LSP obligations amount and the annual employee benefit expenses amount.

Any changes in these assumptions will impact the carrying amount of the LSP obligations.

As at 31 March 2026, the carrying amounts of provision for LSP are HK$20,959,000 (2025: HK$19,518,000). Details of key assumptions and impact of possible changes in key assumptions are disclosed in note 27.

4.2 Critical accounting judgements

Useful lives of PLB licences and public bus licences

The PLB licences and public bus licences are considered by the directors as having indefinite useful lives because they are expected to generate net cash inflows to the Group indefinitely. Taking into account the current regulatory environment, past experience and usual practice of the public transport industry, the directors are of the opinion that the Group is able to renew the PLB licences and public bus licences continuously at minimal cost and therefore there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which the PLB licences and public bus licences are expected to generate net cash inflows to the Group. The management reviews the estimated useful lives of PLB licences and public bus licences at the end of each reporting period.

The useful lives of PLB licences and public bus licences could change as a result of change in practice of the public transport industry and regulatory environment. When the actual useful lives of PLB licences and public bus licences are different from the original estimated useful lives, such difference will impact the amortisation charge and the carrying amounts of the assets. The net carrying amounts of the PLB licences and public bus licences with indefinite useful lives were HK$26,010,000 (2025: HK$42,075,000) and HK$5,580,000 (2025: HK$5,640,000), respectively, at 31 March 2026.

5. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The executive directors of the Company regard the Group's franchised PLB and residents' bus services as the only operating segment and assess the operating performance and allocate the resources of the Group as a whole. Accordingly, no separate analysis of the reportable segment results and assets and liabilities is presented.

Since the Group's revenue and non-current assets are attributed to and located in Hong Kong, which is also the place of domicile, no geographical information is presented.

There was no single customer contributed over 10% of the Group's revenue for the years ended 31 March 2026 and 2025.

12. EARNINGS PER SHARE

(a) Basic earnings per share

The calculation of basic earnings per share is based on the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company of HK$17,969,000 (2025: HK$8,396,000) and on the weighted average number of 271,913,000 (2025: 271,913,000) ordinary shares in issue during the year ended 31 March 2026.

(b) Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share is the same as the basic earnings per share for the years ended 31 March 2026 and 2025, as the share options had no dilutive effect on ordinary shares for the years because the exercise price of the Company's share options was higher than the average market price of the Company's shares in the years.

PLB licences are regarded as having indefinite useful lives as there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which these assets are expected to generate net cash flows to the Group.

The carrying amount of PLB licences at the end of the reporting period would have been HK$26,010,000 (2025: HK$42,075,000) had they been stated at open market value less accumulated impairment losses.

As at 31 March 2026, certain PLB licences with an aggregate carrying amount of HK$13,770,000 (2025: HK$22,950,000) were pledged as security for the Group's banking facilities (note 28).

Fair value hierarchy

The following table presents the fair value of the Group's PLB licences measured at the end of the reporting period on a recurring basis, categorised into the three-level fair value hierarchy. The levels are based on the observability and significance of inputs to the measurements as follows:

- Level 1: unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, and not using significant unobservable inputs.
- Level 3: significant unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

18. PLB LICENCES (CONTINUED)

During the years ended 31 March 2026 and 2025, there were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2.

At 31 March 2026 and 2025, the PLB licences were revalued by HG Appraisal & Consulting Limited, the independent qualified valuer. The fair value of PLB licences was determined using the market approach with reference to the average of recent market-quoted prices from different market dealers. The key assumptions under such approach included the continuous existence of an open market for PLB licences and the status-quo of the trends, market conditions and government policies for PLB industry. The assumptions made were based on past performance and expectations on the market development.

Public bus licenses are regarded as having indefinite useful lives as there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which these assets are expected to generate net cash flows to the Group and are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

The recoverable amount of the public bus licences is determined based on the higher of (i) fair value, reflecting market conditions less costs of disposal, and (ii) value-in-use calculation. The fair value of the public bus licences is determined using market approach with reference to recent market-quoted prices from different market dealers. Value-in-use calculation uses cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by the management covering a five-year period. Assuming that the government policies for the public bus industry remain unchanged, the management determines the key assumptions including budgeted cash flow projections based on past performance, the general price inflation in Hong Kong and the management's expectation on market development. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using the estimated growth rates stated below. The key assumptions used for value-in-use calculations are as follows:

19. PUBLIC BUS LICENCES (CONTINUED)

	As at 31 March
	2026	2025
Gross profit margin (average of 5-year budget)	8% to 22%	8% to 22%
Net profit margin (average of 5-year budget)	3% to 14%	1% to 13%

Note: The discount rate is pre-tax and derived by reference to the Capital Asset Pricing Model plus a risk premium reflecting specific risks relating to the industry.

As at 31 March 2026, the Group owned eight (2025: eight) public bus licences, of which six (2025: six) of them were impaired. The net carrying amounts of the public bus licences were HK$5,640,000 (2025: HK$8,100,000) while the recoverable amounts of the public bus licences (based on the higher of (i) value-in-use calculations and (ii) fair value less cost of disposal and with reference to recent market-quoted prices), were HK$5,580,000 (2025: HK$5,640,000), resulting to an impairment loss of HK$60,000 (2025: HK$2,460,000) recognised in the consolidated income statement for the year ended 31 March 2026.

The fair value of the public bus licences, for impairment assessment purpose, should be measured at the end of each reporting period on a recurring basis at Level 2.

At the beginning of the year
Gross carrying amount	82,056	82,056

At the end of the year
Gross carrying amount	82,056	82,056
Accumulated impairment	(59,138)	(59,138)
Net carrying amount	22,918	22,918

As at 31 March 2026 and 2025, the carrying amounts of goodwill, net of any impairment loss, were allocated to four CGUs of franchised PLB services according to their separate operating rights per below:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Operating rights of franchised PLB service:
PLB routes Hong Kong Island 54, 54M, 55	13,800	13,800
PLB routes the New Territories 20A, 20B, 20C, 20K, 23K	4,950	4,950

PLB routes Hong Kong Island 51, 51S	1,918	1,918
	22,918	22,918

The recoverable amounts of the CGUs are determined based on value-in-use calculation. The value-in-use calculation uses cash flow projections based on the financial budgets approved by the management covering a five-year period. Assuming that the government policies for PLB industry remain unchanged, the management determines the key assumptions including budgeted revenues, fuel costs, staff costs and other operating costs based on past performance of the CGUs, the general price inflation in Hong Kong, the fare adjustment and the management's expectation on market development. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using the growth rates stated below. The key assumptions used for value-in-use calculations are as follows:

	As at 31 March
	2026	2025
Gross margin (average of 5-year budget)	11% to 16%	11% to 18%
Net margin (average of 5-year budget)	4% to 8%	3% to 9%
Growth rate	2.0%	2.0%
Discount rate (note)	11.5%	11.6%

Note: The discount rate is pre-tax and derived by reference to the Capital Asset Pricing Model plus a risk premium reflecting specific risks relating to the industry and CGUs.

21. GOODWILL (CONTINUED)

As at 31 March 2026 and 2025, the recoverable amounts of the CGUs were higher than their carrying amounts, and hence no impairment loss was recognised.

Details of the recoverable amounts and headroom attributable to four CGUs as at 31 March 2026 and 2025 are set out as follows:

	Recoverable amounts As at 31 March		Headroom As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Operating rights of franchised PLB service:
PLB routes Hong Kong Island 54, 54M, 55	23,191	24,665	8,839	10,317
PLB routes the New Territories 20A, 20B, 20C, 20K, 23K	45,049	64,281	38,425	57,860
PLB route Hong Kong Island 52	16,862	7,344	14,278	4,760
PLB routes Hong Kong Island 51, 51S	17,249	12,177	14,992	9,926

The management believes that any reasonably possible changes in the key assumptions would not cause the carrying amounts of the CGUs to exceed the recoverable amounts of the CGUs as at 31 March 2026 and 2025.

22. TRADE AND OTHER RECEIVABLES

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Trade receivables – gross	2,269	2,344

Deposits	876	815
Prepayments	4,485	5,013
	8,772	10,018

Other receivables mainly included insurance claims receivable.

The directors consider that the fair values of the trade and other receivables are not materially different from their carrying amounts because these amounts have short maturity periods on their inception.

Majority of the Group's revenue is attributable to franchised PLB services income which is mainly received in cash or collected via Octopus Cards Limited or AlipayHK and remitted to the Group on the next business day after the day in which services are rendered. The Group normally granted a credit term ranging from 0 to 30 days (2025: 0 to 30 days) to other trade debtors.

22. TRADE AND OTHER RECEIVABLES (CONTINUED)

Based on the invoice dates (or date of revenue recognition if earlier), the ageing analysis of the trade receivables, net of ECL allowance, is as follows:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000

Cash at bank and in hand	39,575	24,900
Short-term bank deposits	53,000	42,000
	92,575	66,900

As at 31 March 2026, the interest rate on short-term bank deposits ranged from 2.00% to 2.10% (2025: 3.40% to 3.64%) per annum. These deposits had an original maturity of two to three months (2025: one to three months).

The directors consider that the fair value of the short-term bank deposits is not materially different from their carrying amount because of the short maturity period on their inception.

24. TRADE AND OTHER PAYABLES

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Trade payables	6,148	5,918

	36,747	21,811

24. TRADE AND OTHER PAYABLES (CONTINUED)

The Group was granted by its suppliers credit periods ranging from 0 to 30 days (2025: 0 to 30 days). Based on the invoice dates, the ageing analysis of trade payables is as follows:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
0 to 30 days	6,148	5,918

Other payables and accruals mainly included accrued salaries and bonus, provision for unused annual leave and staff benefits. The balance as at 31 March 2026 included the payroll for March 2026 of HK$16,729,000 (2025: HK$1,073,000) which was settled on 1 April 2026. The payroll for March 2025 was substantially settled on 31 March 2025.

All amounts were short-term and hence the carrying values of trade and other payables were considered to be a reasonable approximation of their fair values.

25. BANK BORROWINGS

The bank borrowings were secured by certain assets of the Group and guarantee provided by the Company as set out in note 28.

26. LEASE LIABILITIES

The following table shows the remaining contractual maturities of the Group's lease liabilities:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Total minimum lease payments:

During the year ended 31 March 2026, the total cash outflows for all leases were HK$70,560,000 (2025: HK$68,889,000).

Majority of the leases of PLBs were entered into with related parties. Details of the lease payments paid to and lease liabilities due to related parties are set out in note 35(c).

27. PROVISION FOR LSP

Pursuant to the Employment Ordinance, employees that have been employed continuously for at least five years are entitled to LSP under certain circumstances (e.g. dismissal by employers or upon retirement).

The amount of LSP payable is determined with reference to the employee's last monthly salary (capped at HK$22,500) and the years of service, reduced by the amount of any accrued benefits derived from the Group's contributions to MPF scheme, with an overall cap of HK$390,000 per employee.

Where an employee's employment commenced before 1 May 2025, the employer can use the above accrued benefits to reduce the LSP in respect of the employee's service up to that date. The LSP in respect of the service before 1 May 2025 will be calculated based on the employee's monthly salary immediately before 1 May 2025 and the years of service up to that date.

27. PROVISION FOR LSP (CONTINUED)

The present value of LSP obligations and its movements are as follows:

	As at 31 March

27. PROVISION FOR LSP (CONTINUED)

Estimates and assumptions

The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of LSP obligations are as follows:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Discount rate	2.8% to 3.5%	3.5% to 3.6%
Salary growth rate	2.2% to 3.1%	2.2% to 3.1%
Expected investment return on offsetable MPF accrued benefits	3.95%	3.95%

These assumptions were developed by management. Discount factors are determined close to each period-end by reference to market yields of government bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid and that have terms to maturity approximating to the terms of the related LSP obligations. Other assumptions are based on current actuarial benchmarks and management's historical experience.

The present value of the LSP obligations was measured using the projected unit credit method.

The weighted average duration of the LSP obligations is 5.1 years (2025: 5.0 years).

Expected maturity analysis of undiscounted LSP obligations as at 31 March 2026 is disclosed as follows:

	Within 1 year HK$'000	Over 1 year but within 2 years HK$'000	Over 2 years but within 5 years HK$'000	Over 5 years HK$'000	Total HK$'000

On 30 August 2013, the Company terminated the share option scheme adopted on 22 March 2004 (the "2004 Scheme") and adopted a new share option scheme (the "2013 Scheme") on the same date. The 2013 Scheme subsequently expired on 29 August 2023. The share options granted prior thereto shall continue to be valid and exercisable in accordance with the 2013 Scheme.

Pursuant to the 2013 Scheme the eligible persons could have been granted options to subscribe for shares of the Company upon and subject to a maximum number of shares available for issue thereunder, which was 26,612,500, representing 10% of the issued shares of the Company as at 30 August 2013, the date of approval of the 2013 Scheme. The subscription price determined by the board of directors was at least the higher of (i) the closing price of the Company's shares as stated in the Stock Exchange's daily quotations sheet on the date of grant; (ii) the average closing price of the Company's shares as stated in the Stock Exchange's daily quotations sheets for the five business days immediately preceding the date of grant and (iii) the nominal value of the Company's shares. All share-based compensation was settled in equity. The Group has no legal or constructive obligation to repurchase or settle the options other than issuing the Company's ordinary shares.

31. STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL POSITION OF THE COMPANY (CONTINUED)

Notes:

(i) The Company has assessed the recoverability of the carrying value of the interests in subsidiaries and the amounts due from subsidiaries at the end of the reporting period. The directors are of the opinion that the recoverable amounts of the interests in subsidiaries and amounts due from subsidiaries were higher than its carrying amounts as at 31 March 2026 and 2025.

(ii) The movement of the Company's reserves is as follows:

	Share premium	Contributed surplus	Share options reserve	Retained profits	Total
	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000

As at 31 March 2025	63,735	96,678	347	13,725	174,485

As at 31 March 2026, the distributable reserves of the Company amounted to HK$163,776,000 (2025: HK$174,138,000).

Contributed surplus represents the difference between the book values of the underlying net assets of the subsidiaries and the nominal value of the Company's shares issued at the time of the reorganisation for listing of the Company's shares in the Stock Exchange in 2004.

(iii) Financial guarantee contracts

As at 31 March 2026, the Company had executed corporate guarantees to secure general banking facilities granted to the subsidiaries amounted to HK$276,635,000 (2025: HK$276,635,000). Under the guarantees, the Company would be liable to pay the banks if the banks are unable to recover the bank borrowings. At the end of the reporting period, the outstanding balance of the bank borrowings was HK$81,653,000 (2025: HK$103,733,000) and this represents the Company's maximum exposure under the guarantee contracts. No provision for the Company's obligation under the financial guarantee contracts has been made as the directors considered that the fair values of these corporate guarantees at their initial recognition and at the end of the reporting period were not significant and it was not probable that the repayment of bank borrowings would be in default.

37. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group actively and regularly reviews and manages its financial risk and takes actions to mitigate such risk.

The Group's financial instruments comprise trade and other receivables, bank balances and cash, bank borrowings, trade and other payables and lease liabilities. The Group has not used any derivatives and other instruments for hedging purposes.

The main risks arising from the Group's financial instruments are foreign exchange risk, fuel price risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk and credit risk. The Group adopts conservative strategies on its risk management and seeks to limit the Group's exposure to these risks to a minimum. The board of directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks.

There has been no change to the types of the Group's exposure in respect of financial instruments or the manner in which it manages and measures the risks.

– Lease liabilities	33,734	97,066
	152,134	222,610

37.2 Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk refers to the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates.

The management considers that the Group is not exposed to significant foreign exchange risk as the majority of transactions, monetary assets and liabilities are denominated in the functional currency of the relevant group entities. Accordingly, no foreign currency risk sensitivity analysis is presented.

37. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (CONTINUED)

37.3 Fuel price risk

The Group is exposed to fuel price risk. The fluctuations in the fuel prices could have significant effect to the operations of the Group. However, having carefully evaluated the market conditions, the Group's internal resources and the possible outcomes of entering into hedging derivatives, the board of directors concluded that entering into hedging contracts might not necessarily be an effective tool to manage the fuel price risk. Therefore, the Group did not have any hedging policies over its anticipated fuel consumption during the years ended 31 March 2026 and 2025. The management will continue to closely monitor the changes in market condition.

37.4 Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk relates to the risk that the Group will not be able to meet its obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset.

The Group's prudent policy is to regularly monitor its current and expected liquidity requirements, to ensure that it maintains sufficient reserves of cash and cash equivalents, as well as adequate undrawn committed banking facilities to meet its liquidity requirements in the short term and longer term.

Analysed below is the Group's remaining contractual maturities for its financial liabilities as at 31 March 2026 and 2025. When the creditor has a choice of when the liability is settled, the liability is included on the basis of the earliest date when the Group is required to pay. Where settlement of the liability is in instalments, each instalment is allocated to the earliest period in which the Group is committed to pay.

The contractual maturity analysis below is based on the undiscounted cash flows of the financial liabilities.

	Carrying amount HK$'000	Total contractual undiscounted cash flow HK$'000	Within 1 year or on demand HK$'000	Over 1 year but within 5 years HK$'000	Over 5 years HK$'000

	222,610	242,134	113,607	67,960	60,567

As at 31 March 2026, the Group had undrawn facilities totalling HK$67,300,000 (2025: HK$67,300,000) which were the overdraft and the revolving loan facilities granted by the banks.

37. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (CONTINUED)

37.5 Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk relates to the risk that the fair value or cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group's interest rate risk arises primarily from its bank balances, bank borrowings and lease liabilities. As at 31 March 2026 and 2025, the Group's certain bank balances and bank borrowings were carried on floating rate basis and were denominated in Hong Kong dollars.

As at 31 March 2026, it was estimated that if there was a decrease of 1% (2025: 1%) in interest rate, with all other variables remaining constant, the Group's consolidated equity and profit after tax would have increased by approximately HK$239,000, respectively (2025: HK$515,000). The same percentage increase in interest rate would have the same magnitude on the Group's profit/loss for the year and equity but of opposite effect. The assumed changes in interest rate represent management's assessment of a reasonably possible change in interest rates over the period until the next annual reporting date.

The Group currently does not have an interest rate hedging policy. However, the management monitors the Group's interest rate exposure and will consider hedging significant interest exposure should the need arise.

37.6 Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that the counterparty to a financial instrument would fail to discharge its obligation under the terms of the financial instrument and cause a financial loss to the Group.

The Group's maximum exposure to credit risk on recognised financial assets is limited to the carrying amount at the end of the reporting period as summarised in note 37.1 above.

The Group has no significant concentrations of credit risk because of its diverse customer base. Majority of the income receipt of the Group is on cash basis or collected via Octopus Cards Limited or AlipayHK and remitted to the Group on the next business day after the day in which services are rendered.

(i) Trade receivables

The Group has applied the simplified approach to assess the ECL as prescribed by HKFRS 9. To measure the ECL, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the past due days. In calculating the ECL rates, the Group considers historical elements and forward-looking elements. Assessed lifetime ECL rate of trade receivables is minimal for all ageing bands as there was no recent history of default and continuous payments were received. The Group determined that the ECL allowance in respect of trade receivables for the years ended 31 March 2026 and 2025 was minimal as there was no significant change in credit risk.

Trade receivables are written off (i.e. derecognised) when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery.

(ii) Other financial assets at amortised cost

Other financial assets at amortised cost include other receivables, deposits and bank balances and cash. In order to minimise the credit risk, the management of the Group would make periodic collective and individual assessment on the recoverability of other receivables and deposits based on historical settlement records and past experience as well as current information. Other monitoring procedures are in place to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In these regards, the credit risk of other receivables and deposits are considered to be low.

Besides, the management is of opinion that there is no significant increase in credit risk on these other receivables and deposits since initial recognition as the risk of default is low after considering the factors as set out in note 2.9 and, thus, the ECL for other receivables and deposits are minimal under the 12-month ECL method.

The credit risks for bank balances and short-term bank deposits are considered negligible as the counterparties are reputable banks.

38. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The Group's capital management objectives are to ensure the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and to provide an adequate return for shareholders by pricing services commensurate with the level of risks.

The Group actively and regularly reviews and manages its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions. The Group monitors capital structure on the basis of the net debt-to-equity ratio. This ratio is calculated as net debts (total bank borrowings and lease liabilities net of bank balances and cash) over total equity. The Group's capital management strategy is to maintain the net debt-to-equity ratio at a healthy level in order to support its businesses. The principal strategies adopted by the Group include, without limitation, reviewing future cash flow requirements and the ability to meet debt repayment schedules when they fall due, maintaining a reasonable level of available banking facilities and adjusting investment plans and financing plans, if necessary, to ensure the Group has a reasonable level of capital to support its business. The Group relies on internal resources and interest-bearing borrowings to finance the capital requirements, which is the same as prior years.

The net debt-to-equity ratio of the Group at the end of the reporting period is calculated as follows:

	As at 31 March
	2026 HK$'000	2025 HK$'000
Short term bank borrowings	7,495	22,031
Long term bank borrowings	74,158	81,702
Lease liabilities	33,734	97,066
	115,387	200,799
Bank balances and cash	(92,575)	(66,900)
Net debts	22,812	133,899
Total equity	43,832	36,685
Net debt-to-equity ratio	52%	365%

39. EVENT AFTER THE REPORTING PERIOD

On 30 June 2026, Gurnard, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, being the lessee, and Maxson, HKCT and Big Three, all being the lessors, entered into a new minibus leasing agreement ("New Minibus Leasing Agreement") with a view to renewing the existing PLB leasing arrangements for another term of three years running from 1 October 2026 to 30 September 2029. Since Mr. Wong Ling Sun, Vincent, Ms. Ng Sui Chun, Ms. Wong Wai Sum, Maya and Ms. Wong Wai Man, Vivian, being the directors of the Company, have indirect interest in the New Minibus Leasing Agreement, the transactions under the New Minibus Leasing Agreement constitute continuing connected transactions as defined in the Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules and are subject to the reporting, announcement and independent shareholders' approval requirements under the Listing Rules.

It is estimated that the Group would recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities amounting to approximately HK$190 million respectively on 1 October 2026 pursuant to the New Minibus Leasing Agreement, subject to the independent shareholders' approval at the annual general meeting of the Company, which will be held in August 2026.

The following is a summary of the audited consolidated financial statements of the Group for the respective years as hereunder stated.
